These support costs are a big drain on America's dollar reserves. Dr. Adenauer's answer is the once-and-for-all cash offer of 357 million. President Kennedy's rejection of it is a painful blow to the West German Government. It will now have to pay more - and increase taxation to do so - or run the obvious ~~took~~ risk in upsetting the new American administration.